

Do your prints describe who you are?

The following 11 patterns that appear on our fingerprints that some people believe explain our personality. Each pattern on each different finger may be explained differently with different analysis! This is meant as a fun activity to help you think about who you are. Use one or more of your fingers to “analyze”.

(1) Simple Arch Patterns

Form: hill-shaped, curved top, no triangle was formed in with the shape.

Characteristics: hard working, introverted, cautious, works without complaint, likes to follow the steps, down to earth, do not like taking risks.

(2) Tented Arch Patterns

Form: like a camping tent with a sharp tip top.

Characteristics: with extreme personalities, can be outgoing and welcoming one day and shy the other. Not afraid of challenges and obstacles, but may sometimes be impulsive. Creative.

(3) Ulnar Loop Patterns

Form: like a waterfall flowing towards the little finger with triangular points.

Characteristics: gentle, observant, passive, loves schedules, likes to go with the flow, little self-motivation.

(4) Radial Loop Patterns

Form: The opposite of ulnar loop, the “waterfall” flows toward the thumb.

Characteristics: thinks independently and cleverly, like to question and criticize, self-centered, loves to go against the majority.

(5) Concentric Whorl Patterns

Form: Lines starting from the center of the small circle, the lines on finger tip appear to be a complete circle and spread out like concentric circles with two triangular points.

Characteristics: Self-centered, likes competition, likes to set objectives, rigorous, subjective, doesn't like to be controlled.

(6) Spiral Whorl Patterns

Form: A spiral pattern starting from the center and move outward, has two triangular points.

Characteristics: Self motivated.

(7) Press Whorl Patterns

Form: Similar to the whorl pattern, but the circle turns into a long oval shape, has two triangular points.

Characteristics: Ambitious, likes competition, hates to be defeated, attention to detail, stays on a budget.

(8) Imploding whorl Patterns

Form: Tai Chi-like patterns in the middle, surrounded by multi-layers of circle.

Characteristics: Has the ability to complete two tasks at the same time, diverse, self-conscious.

(9) Composite Whorl Patterns

Form: Tai Chi-like pattern without multi-layers or circle surrounding it.

Characteristics: Very adaptable, thinks from different perspectives, makes decision based on what the environment is, good communication and coordination skills, but can be distracted easily.

(10) Peacock's Eye Patterns

Form: From the center it looks like a peacock's eyes and lips; the center consists of more than one circle or spiral, the end of each ring is connected in a straight line. It has two triangular points; one further and the other closer to the center.

Characteristics: Expressive, highly perceptive, with leadership qualities, artistic.

(11) Variant Patterns

Form: Often has combination of two or more of whorls, ulnar loops, or simple arches, with two or more triangle points.

Characteristics: Likes to expressive oneself in a unique way, which often becomes offensive
